If my housemate becomes sick with coronavirus, they will need to get tested at a special medical clinic.

Nose Swab

Because the virus spreads so easily I may also need to get tested for coronavirus to see if I have it as well.

If my housemate becomes sick with coronavirus, they will need to self - isolate to avoid the spread of germs.

Self-isolation could happen in their bedroom, a special area in our home, a new place away from home, or the hospital.

Self - isolation means that my housemate will stay in one place – away from others - at all times throughout the day and night.

They will stay in this place until they are better.

Staff in the home will wear a mask to cover their nose and mouth.

Staff may also wear other items, like a gown, gloves and goggles.
This will help to prevent the spread of germs.
